Dear students,

choosing a university is not easy, deciding which is the ideal university path is even less so, especially at such a crucial time in your lives. With this guide, we do not want to merely publicise our University. Our intention is to provide a tool that is easy to consult and really useful: another means by which to accompany you towards a conscious decision.

Choosing to continue your studies after graduating from high school is a decision that, despite the clichés, pays off. It allows you to develop a profound critical sense and, by putting yourself to the test, it provides useful tools to learn how to manage yourself in ever new contexts. It supports you, therefore, in your individual growth and training, not only on a professional level but on a personal level too.

Your choice and your path must be enlightened by this though: your years at university are decisive, now more than ever, to prepare yourself to become skilled professionals but also critical and free spirits equipped with knowledge, know-how and the ability to innovate.

It is with this conviction that we have invested a great deal of effort in developing the proposal for the 20 degree-courses for the new academic year. This task has been firmly based on the balance between innovation and tradition. We are proud of our facilities, the quality of our structures and, above all, our training project.

We demand a lot from ourselves, in the recruitment of teachers, in scientific research, in the development of skills and in internationalisation. We will be just as demanding with you, so that you can be better prepared, so that you always want to get involved, so that you always do your very best.

Good luck to all of you for the shared journey that awaits us.

Francesco Bonini
Rector of LUMSA University

LUMSA's Formula

Libera Università Maria Ss. Assunta (LUMSA University) is a non-state, public university of Catholic inspiration which prides itself on its high-quality degree courses and education, intended as the capacity of being and acting in full consciousness. The University's unique concept boasts specific services aimed to favour the graduates' integration in the labour market and the mainstream society. This is enabled by a network of international and local connections developed with the needs of the academic and entrepreneurial worlds in mind.

Established in 1939, LUMSA University is Rome's leading non-State and second largest University, moreover, it has built a strong reputation over the years for its high-quality student support and academic offer.

Student Support

The student's role is essential in the LUMSA tailor-made educational project, as it revolves around academic and human factors: this is a winning approach, highly appreciated by students. It is not a case, in fact, that 96.7% of LUMSA's graduates say that they are happy with their studies (Almalaurea, 2020).

This approach also affects the way students study, indeed, LUMSA's students have one main feature, i.e. compared to the Italian national average (55.7%), over two thirds of LUMSA's students are in line with their course schedules (70.1%): this is a clear sign of their serious intention to learn and successfully complete their courses. That is why, it is not surprising that LUMSA's students and graduates are highly appreciated and rewarded with prominent awards.

Quality of teaching

An excellent teaching staff of high international scientific repute testifies to the importance that LUMSA University pins to education. The University's professors have individually received important awards in their specific sectors of expertise and hold posts and responsibilities at Italian and international institutions and associations of primary importance.

Besides its traditional courses, the University has launched a series of advanced educational projects, such as an educational experiment in collaboration with the Opera Nazionale Montessori, that provides the additional Early Childhood Educator qualification to the students of Management of socio-educational and training services, or the International Law Programme that teaches all juridical subjects in English and involves non-Italian visiting professors who choose to carry out their research and educational activities at the University. The Degree courses in Management and Finance, Marketing & Digital Communication and International Relations are entirely taught in English. These are high-level master's courses that equip students with the best skills to enter the labour market in highly competitive international contexts.

We also offer a number of double degrees, i.e. the possibility to attain an Italian and an international degree from EFAP (L'école des nouveaux métiers de la communication) of Paris, the Université de Lille, the Griffith College of Dublin, in Ireland, to the Universidad de Huelva.

The Founder's Legacy

The perfect blend between culture and student support is rooted in the philosophy and life of LUMSA's founder, Luigia Tincani, who hinged her educational concept on the conviction that studying, active thinking and teaching render the best service possible to young people.

The Relationship between Companies and the Territory

LUMSA's academic offer is not a mere teaching activity, in that it integrates with a series of services and opportunities aimed to foster the students' prospects and potentials. In fact, the University is establishing closer and closer bonds with companies and institutions through curricular and extra-curricular internship agreements. Agreements were signed with the Italian Ministry of Interior, Civil Protection Department, as well as a partnership with Confcooperative.

However, the critical passage from university to the labour market entails much more than agreements: it calls for a series of permanent initiatives to ease this transition in an informed way (Job Corner), as well as to bridge the gap between the young and companies through meetings and events that students can attend before they graduate (Job Contests, Talent Days).

Top-level Scientific Research

The University's research activity focuses on economic, juridical, social, psychological and educational sciences, in which all the Departments have attained prominent rewards in the latest report by ANVUR (Italian Agency for the University and Research System Evaluation). LUMSA University topped the Business, Economics, Law and Social Sciences areas, while in the second quartile, it attained an average general evaluation above the national average in Psychology and Political Sciences.

Every year, the University receives Italian (PON, PRIN) and European funds (Erasmus+, Horizon 2020, DG Justice) and extra european (Fulbright Program), as acknowledgement of its quality research projects. LUMSA University is associated to the European networks of EUA (European University Association) and EURAXESS - Researchers in motion.

International Outreach

LUMSA University has always been open to internationalisation and has been one of the first Italian Universities that received European quality certifications with the ECTS Label and the Diploma Supplement. The University has signed agreements and protocols with European and Extra-European Universities to promote the mobility of students, professors and administrative staff. At the same time, LUMSA has also developed partnerships for international research projects.

The classes of some courses of study are in English, and for various courses it is possible to attain a double degree after a year of study at the partner universities in the United States (Law), France (International Relations), Ireland and Portugal (Marketing & digital communication) and Spain (Science of Social Services and non-profit). These opportunities are particularly interesting also for international students who choose LUMSA University to study in an unparalleled educational context.

The University promotes international students mobility, an important personal and professional development tool, because according to the Erasmus Impact Study, enterprises are more willing to hire young graduates who have experienced international mobility during their studies. LUMSA University today boasts 318 agreements with European Universities for studying, teaching and research purposes, and 32 institutional agreements with extra-European Universities. The list of the destinations is long: not only does it comprise the 28 Member States of the European Union, but also Norway, Switzerland and Turkey. The University proactively supports international mobility, because besides the regional contributions for Erasmus, it issues over 145 Erasmus Scholarships every year.

LUMSA University also promotes the Erasmus+ Traineeship Programme for traineeships at European enterprises, companies, universities and research centres. However, Europe is not the limit.

Thanks to a series of partnerships with Asian and American universities, 5-year students and graduate students have the opportunity to participate in collaboration and exchange projects in India, Canada, Brazil, Argentina or Mexico. This specifically helps scientific research to open up to an international perspective: it is not surprising, in fact, that LUMSA University has recently obtained consistent funds at the issue of highly competitive tenders (Horizon 2020, Marie Curie, Erasmus+, Fulbright) by presenting research projects of high international interest.

The growing number of international students, coming from over 50 nations from all over the world, who choose LUMSA University for their education or for brief periods of mobility (Erasmus+ Programme) shows that the University's global outreach is highly appreciated, also thanks to the specificity of individual degree courses and the possibility to follow classes and graduate in English.

The University promotes the internationalisation of all students, also those studying in Italian. In fact, a number of students participate in international initiatives or events relative to their sector of study, such as the Moot Competitions for Law Students, meetings and workshops with Ambassadors for International Relations students and other meetings in Italy and abroad.

LUMSA Campuses

LUMSA University is today present in the Lazio, Sicily and Apulia Regions. LUMSA's branches offer courses at every university level, with 20 degree courses and over 70 first and second level master courses designed by the LUMSA Master School.

Rome

Established in 1939, the University is located in the Prati neighbourhood, one of the most beautiful areas of the Eternal City, the world's capital of culture and art. The four Roman branches are positioned in downtown Rome, along via della Traspontina, via di Porta Castello, piazza delle Vaschette and via Pompeo Magno, and can be easily reached by public or private transport, as well as with the bike, scooter and car sharing services the University signed agreements with.

The walls of the Roman Campus enclose centuries of history: the palace on piazza delle Vaschette dates back to 1859, when Pope Pius IX had an all-girl school built, which was later purchased by LUMSA University in 1939. The building on via della Traspontina was part of an urban innovation effort that was started in 1936 and concluded in the aftermath of World War II. The complex on via di Porta Castello opened in 2000 and served as accreditation facility for the media covering the Jubilee, which it is named after.

In 2016, the University opened the via delle Fosse di Castello branch, a new wing of the Jubilee Complex that completed the upgrading of the whole Campus. The Complex – inaugurated by the Ministry for Education, University and Research – accommodates the Student Office, various administrative offices, LUMSA Cafè, the Central Library and the Residence. It is also in completion in the complex of Marco Antonio Colonna 19, a new building dedicated to restaurant services and professors' offices for receiving students.

Palermo

The Palermo Educational Centre is located on via Filippo Parlatore 65, in the city centre, only a mere kilometre away from the very central via della Libertà and Politeama Theatre. The building was constructed in 1897 as a monastery of the Congregation of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. When it was closed, 33 years later, the building was entrusted to Luigia Tincani who extended and transformed it into the Scuola di Magistero della donna (Professional school for women), an institution that became rapidly renowned over the whole region.

The building closed during the war, and reopened in 1944 with the name of Casa Bianca, a student residence for female university students. In 1999, it became a separate branch of LUMSA University. Its central position can be easily reached via metropolitan, train lines, and busses.

The University collaborates with the Scuola di Servizio sociale Santa Silvia that was legally incardinated in the University in 1984, and became a separate branch for the social service courses. A shuttle service serves this branch.

In these months some works are starting in the complex of Filippo Parlatore to enlarge the campus allowing the creation of new classrooms and space for students.

Taranto

The Taranto educational centre offers three-year and five-year degree courses in social services. The piazza Santa Rita branch, in the city centre, was established in 1997 in collaboration with Edas (Diocesan Organisation for Social Ministry).

Living the University

Study

The University's Library System, consisting of the Attilio Nicora Central University Library in Rome, a modern six-storey building with 190 reading stations, that hosts since 2019 a European Documentation Center, the Giuseppe Dalla Torre and Cardinal Ernesto Ruffini Library in Palermo and the Edas Library in Taranto, specialised in the social field, includes the university's libraries, archives and documentation centres, both paper and digital, and promotes their development, organisation, acquisition, preservation and use.

It has over 160,000 volumes, numerous multidisciplinary databases and 485 current periodicals relating to humanities, legal, economic and political sciences, communication and education. It also includes a collection of psychological tests and a section dedicated to Bioethics.

Living

Two university residences in the heart of Rome allow you to stay in structures adjacent to the teaching faculties, benefiting from comfortable and modern housing arrangements, for a safe university experience without wasting time in city traffic. Students with special housing needs can enlist the help of the Accommodation Service to find private accommodation. This is a free service for the student, who receives assistance from the staff at the desk during all stages of the search: from visiting the accommodation to reaching a decision and to the subsequent signing of the rental contract. By request, assistance is also provided for the removal and storage of furniture.

Receiving assistance

To guarantee the right to study and promote inclusion and integration into university life, LUMSA University provides services for students with disabilities and diagnosis of Specific Learning Disorders (DSA).

The Counselling Service allows to benefit from additional support to address and overcome problems of an existential nature or related to your university studies. Together with the psychotherapists of the Service it is possible to focus on and strengthen specific skills developing paths for personal growth in perfect balance and awareness. Since 2019 a new Service of Support in Studying Methods has been activated, to provide a further support to better plan and manage study activities.

Taking the initiative

Participating fully in university life offers students a wider experience than just being in the classroom. It allows students to acquire important teamwork experiences and to refine their communication and relational skills, soft skills that are particularly appreciated in the working world that those who study at LUMSA University can exercise right from the first year of the course. The University encourages the promotion, organisation and management of projects run by students and addressed to the student community, such as courses in diction and phonetics, creative writing, theatre or journalism in relation to Aiko Magazine. These are cultural and recreational activities that the University actively supports, choosing to finance those that are most significant in terms of quality and more consistent with the degree courses, as well as those most appreciated by the student population.

The desire to actively participate in University life has given rise, over the years, to a privileged path that has led to the creation of a team of Student Ambassadors, students who collaborate with the University in orientation activities at the headquarters and at national fairs, putting their personal experience as university students at the service of their younger “colleagues”, or in support of major events organised at university venues.

Communicate

Information, listening and dialogue: three stages of communication that LUMSA University pursues through different channels, which identify the Ateneo lumsa.it website as their point of reference.

With the digital services Mi@LUMSA and the mobile App for iOS and Android, students can carry out the most common operations linked to your university career, such as the management of fees and the booking of exams. The mobile app is a useful tool for keeping up to date on the latest news and receiving any information through push notifications.

With the social media platforms (Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, LinkedIn, Youtube) used by LUMSA University to interact with the academic community, it is possible to be informed and participate actively, talking publicly with other students or privately to ask for support and receive assistance.

The LUMSAinforma newsletter, for which students, family members and all those who wish to can sign up, is used weekly by the University to inform users about the latest news, provide details on the most important upcoming events and propose opportunities and competitions.

Spend time together

Participation in university life also involves a series of networking activities that are complementary to the teaching activity and contribute to the formation of the person and ensure their physical and mental well-being.

The University promotes and supports sports activities and it is with this in mind that it has created the LUMSA Sport group. The University participates in various inter-university tournaments in football, seven-a-side rugby and volleyball.

University pastoral work is the tool with which the Church accompanies and supports students in their spiritual formation, also extending the activity to teachers, staff and graduates who feel the need. The activities proposed include the organisation of meetings on spirituality and preparation for the Sacraments.

The Jubilee Campus in Rome hosts the LUMSA Café, a space dedicated to the teachers and staff of the University, but especially to the students who can take a break between one lesson and another, meet and take the opportunity to meet new people in an informal context. The LUMSA Café is a bar and cake shop, also serving hot meals, affiliated to the university.

The conventions established by the University with associations and cultural spaces offer the academic community further cultural opportunities. There are many important partnerships, including the Roma Capitale Museum System, several theatres and bookstores.

Learn

In order to provide an educational offer that goes beyond traditional classroom teaching, LUMSA University has devised an innovative proposal for professional growth, complementary to the degree courses, which consists of a Language Centre and a Talent Academy.

CLIC, Centro Linguistico Internazionale per le Certificazioni (International Linguistics Centre for Certifications) coordinates and develops an articulate training system that combines teaching with a facilitated service for access to language courses by students, but also by users outside the University. In particular, it organises language courses, also aimed at preparing exams for the main international certificates in English (Toefl, IELTS, Cambridge), Spanish (DELE, Cervantes), German (Goethe), French (DELF - DALF), Italian for foreigners (CELI), but also non-European languages such as Russian, Chinese and Arabic.

Graduate

Convinced that the interpersonal ties established during the years spent at university are important and fundamental also in a subsequent professional phase, the University promotes the initiatives of the LUMSA ALUMNI Association, a network of graduates, professionals and entrepreneurs in Italy and abroad, driven by the desire to stay in touch with their colleagues, in order to enhance the resources and experiences of this extremely qualified heritage, both from a human and professional point of view.

Work

The LUMSA Talent Academy is an innovative project that envisages a series of activities and services aimed at preparing students and graduates to enter the working world with a Job Guidance service focused on developing the skills of the individual. The programme aims to put students in touch with managers of the main national and multinational companies operating in Italy. Participation in the activities of the Talent Academy is a valid opportunity to learn about the mechanisms for selecting companies through: drafting and optimising CVs, simulations of interviews with company managers, use of social media for seeking jobs, analysing professional trends and promoting their personal branding.

The University also offers visibility, space, services and support from the professionals at the LUMSA Digital Hub, a vertical business incubator which has been operating in Palermo since July 2018, on Food Tech, Agri Tech and Travel Tech. The LUMSA Digital Hub, in partnership with Digital Magics Palermo and with the support of BNL - BNP Paribas and Sanlorenzo Mercato, provides resources, expertise, direct contacts with investors and logistical, administrative, accounting and legal support for the innovative ideas of students and graduates of LUMSA University.

The University is also home to a special Employment Contract Certification Commission, directly authorized by the Ministry of Labor and Social Policies, which has various competences in the field of certification of employment contracts and individual clauses and dispute settlement.

Welcome Office

LUMSA makes it easy to study in Italy, providing assistance through a dedicated Welcome Office that support students with information about academic courses and enrolment procedures for international students and provides also support to international Visiting Professors.

The support provided is not only on-site, for those who are already in Italy, but also during the pre-arrival phase, a crucial moment for international students which need a dedicated assistance to choose the right university and to receive orientation on immigration procedures to enter Italy.

International students are also Italian students with previous international degree and qualification obtained abroad and European Union students.

Detailed information is available in the Welcome Office section on LUMSA's website.

Post-degree Academic Courses

First and Second level Professional Master's Courses

The LUMSA Master School is a LUMSA department dedicated to the post-degree and permanent education of young graduates and professional managers of both public and private companies.

The LUMSA Master School is a point of reference for all those wishing to broaden their knowledge in a specific field of interest and expand their practical skills through academic courses that meet the needs of the fast-evolving Italian and international labour markets.

For further information on First and Second level Professional Masters, please visit www.masterschool.lumsa.it

First level Professional Masters entirely in English:

European master of law and economics

Management of sustainable development goals

FINTECH & INNOVATION

PhD

A PhD is the highest academic degree awarded by the Italian educational system and provides students with the skills necessary to conduct any highly qualified research activity at Universities, public bodies and private entities.

Only a 2nd level degree (5-year single-cycle courses or 2-year master degree courses attained with the old Italian academic system) gives access to a PhD.
